

ANOTHER ZEPP DESTROYED DURING RAID ON BRITAIN

BOARD OF AFFAIRS BRUCKLES UNDER WILSON CLUB

Campaign Streamer May Go Up Across Main Street.

ES WERE SUSPENDED

Amending Measure was Jammed Through in Record Time.

Nothing was worked pretty fast. Board of Affairs this morning an ordinance was passed which the ordinance which prevented Wilson Club from flying a banner on Main street. When the ordinance was read for the first time last Commissioners Smith and stood stoutly against an amendment, though they did not go against it. The proposed amendment is an amendment giving Bowen, a member of the Wilson Club, power to say whether or not a banner may be raised against Ordinance 13, Chapter 25 of the city law. It was read last Monday the ordinance that it be put on record and be read for the first time.

This morning's meeting of the board for the second time. After reading an amendment was made to the ordinance which gave the board the power to allow the flying of whatever banners he sees fit to vote in favor of the amendment. Commissioner Smith made a motion to suspend the rules after the reading and asked that the ordinance be read for the third time. Commissioners Bowen and Barnes voted in favor of the suspension of the rules. The ordinance was then read and the amendment was passed.

The board will go to the Common Council tomorrow for a vote and if the council will pass the amendment will be a law and the Wilson banner will go up without fear of the police. People was granted a permit to use a restaurant and pool room on Main street. J. C. Patterson applied for a permit to use a sidewalk on Main street. The matter was referred to street commissioner. Commissioner Thompson also spoke concerning the sidewalk at Alexander Place. This matter was referred to Mr. Lehman. The proposition of J. A. Meredith in the city is to take over the pipe in the Google addition was accepted by the city.

Mission Week Services at St. Peters Church

The mission being conducted at St. Peter's Catholic church was formally opened on Sunday morning at 10:30 when Rev. James Egan celebrated high mass. At eight o'clock evening services at Father Boutwell's church. The Rev. Alexis Cunneen of Boston who is conducting the mission gave a splendid sermon at the 8:30 service and again preached at evening service. The services for the week are as follows: First mass every morning at 8 o'clock, second mass at 8 o'clock, evening services at 7:30 o'clock. Short services will be given at the morning services, and a sermon on a special subject each evening.

Evergreen Musical Asso. Meeting

Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Evergreen Musical association will meet in the Methodist church at Fairmont. Interesting programs have been arranged for the two days. Jesse W. Pitzer, president, J. A. vice president, and Mrs. W. L. secretary. An address of welcome will be delivered Wednesday evening by F. G. Grey and on the afternoon of that day Rev. Mr. Tyler will give an address on the Power of the Church in Church Services. Officers elected and committees will report at the Thursday afternoon session.

LUTHERAN RALLY SERVICES.

A general rally day was observed at the Lutheran church on Sunday. Large congregations featured each of the various church services. "His is the Host" was the subject of an interesting program which was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The day school report showed 146 present and a collection of $12.55. Following the Sabbath school service Rev. Kunkle pastor of the church gave a splendid sermon using as text "The Harvest is past the summer is ended and we are not sad." The chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. O. A. Wood furnished excellent music for the day's services.

Wilson's Real Views About Union Labor

(Extract from speech made by Theodore Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Saturday, September 23.)

At the Peoples Forum on February 2, 1905, Mr. Wilson said: "Labor Unions drag the highest man to the level of the lowest." In an address at a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria on March 18, 1907, in speaking of the capitalists, he said: "There is another equally formidable enemy to equality and betterment of opportunity, and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of this country." In a letter written January 12, 1909, he said: "I am a fierce partisan of the open shop." In June of the same year, speaking at Princeton, he said: "The usual standard of the employee in our day is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trades unions and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under this regulation. Our economic supremacy may be lost because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants."

I have no question that when Mr. Wilson thus spoke he expressed his sincere convictions. Less than two years later he was in public life and immediately his attitude changed. There is no reason to believe that his convictions changed.

AMATEUR SAFE CRACKERS MEET WITH HARD LUCK

Attempt Made to Rob W. F. Haney's Strong Box.

Breaking into the machine shop of Al Donley on the Belt line on the South Side some time Saturday night thieves, supposedly juvenile bandits, stole several safe-cracking implements and forcing their way in the wholesale grocery building of W. F. Haney, bored two holes in the safe. It was evidently their intention to blow the safe but judging from the appearance of the room in which the safe stood the burglars forgot to bring their soup. The floor was covered with braces and bits and other tools, the safe itself was unopened although a hole had been bored into the door through the lock and other hole above the lock. Becoming frightened or discovering that they forgot the most important safe blowing material the bandits left and going to the Haney garage stole the auto truck owned by the wholesale company. Not a great distance from the grocery a tire blew out and the joy ride in the truck was abandoned. Officers have been working on the case since Sunday morning when the attempted robbery at the wholesale house was discovered. No arrests have been made, but the officers feel most certain that it was done by youngsters about the city.

Schuck Meeting Was Record Breaker

What Fairview voters call the largest political meeting held in recent years in that town turned out Saturday evening to hear the address of Hon. Chas. J. Schuck, who discussed the campaign issues in this section of the state for the Progressive-Republican standpoint. The attendance at the rally was considerably swelled by the Rivesville Delegation. Hon. W. S. Hamilton, Republican candidate for assessor, W. H. Veach, Republican candidate for sheriff and Rollo J. Conley, Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney also gave short talks. The meeting was successful in every way.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. C. E. Goodwin is in Wheeling, where she joined Rev. Goodwin, who is attending the Methodist Episcopal conference in session there. They will probably return here tonight or tomorrow. Mrs. Olin C. Bond, wife of Adjutant General Bond, of Charleston, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lough in this city. Mr. Eugene Exter, of Kansas City, Mo., is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Fred Dietrich, of Cleveland avenue. Miss Gail Sturm, of Farmington, was the guest of friends here over Sunday.

ROBINSON WILL SPEND THIS WEEK AMID THE APPLES

Will Campaign in the Counties of the Eastern Section.

WINDS UP AT ROMNEY

People Respond Warmly to the Speech He is Making.

(Special Dispatch to West Virginian) BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 2.—Judge Ira E. Robinson, the Republican nominee for governor, is some campaigner. Today he is far from the scenes of his activities of last week, making a whirlwind automobile tour of Morgan county. Tomorrow he visits Jefferson county, next day Berkeley, and so on till Saturday night brings him to Romney to be heard in the home town of his opponent. He is no stranger in these parts. Here are scenes of his school teaching days, his earlier political activities in the old Second Congressional district and his distinguished service on the bench of the state's highest court at Charleston. Greater state reputation and efficiency, progress with economy, a full return for every dollar of the tax-payers money expended, equal rights and no special privileges, justice and equality under the laws and the constitution, the promotion of the mutual welfare of all that great human family called West Virginia, independence from all sinister influences by public officials, are the watch words of his speeches. That the people believe in him and trust him is shown by their hearty responses wherever he is heard.

HATFIELD DECLARES CORNWELL'S REFUSAL TO DEBATE IS COWARDLY

Governor Says Democratic Candidate Travels on Railroad Passes.

WILL GO ON THE STUMP

Issues Statement Defending the Payments Which Cornwell Criticises.

(By Associated Press) CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 30, 1916.—A cowardly refusal was the comment of Governor Hatfield today in a statement given out replying to John J. Cornwell, Democratic nominee for Governor, who refused last night to accept the challenge issued by Governor Hatfield for a series of joint discussions on the issues that have been raised by Cornwell in attacking the record of the Republican state administration. Cornwell's reason assigned for declining was that he was "too much occupied" to accept the challenge and that he did not desire "to undertake the burden of securing for the Governor audiences before which to defend his administration."

He lays down the gauntlet to Cornwell, charging him with making malicious statements and unjustified insinuations about certain expenditures from the civil contingent fund. He also charges Cornwell and defies him to deny that he is riding about the state on railroad and Pullman passes, and puts the question to the Democratic candidate for Governor as to his opinion of the propriety of such action. In regard to payment made in connection with the legislative bribery cases to Guy B. Biddinger of $1,957.84, Governor Hatfield gives out in his statement the letter in which Judge William S. O'Brien, a Democrat, who presided at the trial, approved the Biddinger bill and urged its payment.

Woman's Club to Name Delegates Friday

Delegates from the local Woman's club to the West Virginia State Federation convention in Wheeling during the latter part of October will be named on Friday of this week when the club will hold its annual autumn reunion, the first meeting of the club since spring. The meeting will be held in the club's new apartments in the Watson hotel.

Cobb McDonnell Cut In Monongah Fight

Louis Beton is in jail today at Monongah, and Cobb McDonnell, of that place, is in his home suffering from severe knife wounds, as the result of a fight that occurred last evening on the bridge at Monongah. Beton is a bootlegger recently returned from Martinsburg. Squire Price, before whom Beton will be tried, had this evening set no date for the hearing. It is probable however that action will be taken tonight or tomorrow morning. McDonnell, while not hurt fatally, is still incapacitated to an extent that it will be necessary for him to remain in his home for several days. Purchaser (bringing back a purchase)—This dog is the most ferocious beast I ever came across, and you said he was as gentle as a woman. Dealer in Canines—That's straight. TEN SUPER AIR CRAFT SWOOPED DOWN ON ISLAND

Count Zeppelin Came Near Being One of the Victims.

CREW PERISHED IN AIR

Burning Structure Appeared to Stand Still For Long Time.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Ten Zeppelins took part in last night's raid over England, two of them attempted to attack London. One was driven away and the other was reported last night as destroyed. No reports of casualties have been received. Following is an official account of the raid: "Ten airships crossed the east coast last night between 9 o'clock and midnight. One airship approached the north of London at about 11 p. m. and was driven off by gunfire and pursued by aeroplanes. She attempted to return from the northwest, but was attacked by guns and aeroplanes and brought to earth in flames in the neighborhood of Potter's Bar shortly before midnight. A second airship attempted to attack London from the northeast and was driven off. Bombs were dropped. No reports of casualties or damage have been received. The remaining airship wandered aimlessly over the eastern counties. In Lincolnshire bombs were dropped promiscuously. Most of them appear to have been dropped in open country without doing damage. The airship destroyed was of the latest type. "Friends of Count Zeppelin were alarmed when they learned that another airship had been brought down in England last night," says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company. The Count intended to take part in the raid, the correspondent cabled, but a message sent to Germany elicited the information that at the last moment owing to the persuasion of his family he decided not to join the raiders. Except for part of the envelope there is left hardly a vestige recognizable of the high airships brought down last night near Potter's Bar. The Zeppelin burned more fiercely than one previously destroyed, which like her fortunately fell in an open field. The members of the crew were incinerated and the bodies scattered over the field on which the airship alighted, 80 yards from a farmer's cottage. The Zeppelin appeared to remain almost stationary in the air for three minutes after the envelope burst into flames. The tongues of fire seemed to lick along the sides until it was all ablaze. Even then it dropped so slowly that many persons who had not awakened until the cheering aroused them were able to reach their windows in time to see it fall. Neither the airship which was destroyed nor the one which attacked London succeeded in penetrating the outer defenses of the capital. Little or no damage was done either by them or by eight others which operated over the eastern counties.

Unwritten Poetry.

Many people suppose that poetry is something to be found only in books, contained in lines of ten syllables with like endings; but wherever there is a sense of beauty, or power, or harmony, as in the motion of a wave of the sea, in the growth of a flower that "spreads its sweet leaves to the air, and dedicates its beauty to the sun"—there is poetry in its birth.—Hazlitt.

Women as Inventors.

Mary Kees was the first American woman to take out a patent, in 1798, for weaving straw with silk or thread; but with the spread of education the number of feminine inventions have increased, until between 1884 and 1910 the sum total of 7,942 patents was granted them. These varied from a baby jumper to a deep-sea telescope, and from a fountain pen to the first cooking stove.

THE NORMAL BULLETIN BEING PRINTED.

The first issue of the Normal Bulletin for the present term of school, went to the printer this afternoon and in a few days will be ready for mailing. Several rather important changes are to be made in the make up of the Bulletin this year. It is arranged to have a larger number of pages and it may be that the binding will be slightly changed. One of the innovations, will be the offering to the various classes the privilege of making up one number of the magazine. These special numbers will be known as the Junior number, the Senior number, etc. Special Thanksgiving, Christmas and other holiday numbers are also planned.
